MONUMENT MEETING.

Committees Appointed on Certificates and Also Picnic Arrangements.

The Shenandoah Soldiers' Monument Park Association met at the G. A. R. headquarters, Bedford's hall, last night to hear reports of the Board of Directors and consider suggestions for raising funds. The Directors reported that a little over six hundred dollars had been spent in draining and otherwise improving the site selected for the monument and they are now awaiting further orders of the Association. After giving the matter some consideration it was decided that the Association meet on the site at 10 a. m. on July 2nd, inspect the work done, and decide upon future movements.

The next question taken up was a discussion of how funds can be raised to push the project. It was finally decided to appoint Messrs. Bierstein, Warm and James a committee of three to consider a proposal to issue certificates in return for contributions and that a report be submitted at the next meeting.

As another means of securing revenue it was suggested that a picnic be held and it was decided that a committee of five be appointed to make arrangements for holding a picnic on Labor Day, September 4th, providing the Columbia Park can be secured, and that a report be made at the next meeting. President Holman appointed the following committee: David Morgan, William Frick, Thomas Bellis, P. W. Bierstein, W. J. Watkins, C. L. Fowler, M. H. Master, S. G. Acker, J. J. Fowell and John Wagner.

Some suggestions were made regarding the fencing in of the site and an estimate of what the material would cost was presented, but no definite action was taken.

Two accidents occurred last night by which two aged and well known men were dangerously injured. One accident occurred at Mahanoy Plane and the other near Ashland. One of the victims was Henry Kesseling, of Mahanoy Plane, and employed as watchman on the Shenandoah branch of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway. Kesseling was walking along the Bear Ridge curve of the railroad at about 9:30 o'clock, when he was struck by light engine No. 119. Seitzinger was thrown out of the buggy and fell head foremost upon the ground. His head, face and hands were so severely bruised and cut that it was deemed advisable to remove him to the Mifflin hospital. The physicians here said the man has a chance to recover if inflammation of the brain does not set in. Seitzinger is about 70 years old. The runaway horse was caught at Centralia.

KILLED FOR SMORING!

Wife Cuts Her Husband's Throat in a New York Hotel.

DYING, HE EXONERATES HER.

The Woman, Who is Apparently Insane, Tells Conflicting Stories of the Tragedy—Declared She Wanted to See the Color of His Blood.

New York, June 24.—Harvey J. Ramsey, 36 years old, a ticket seller in the Madison Square Garden, had his throat cut yesterday in his room in the Garden hotel. Before he died he said his wife did it. She is a frail woman, of refined appearance, and is thought to be insane. The woman was found in her room sitting calmly in a chair. It is believed from her language that she is insane. She was placed under arrest. She told Police Sergeant Daly that she had cut her husband's throat because he snored and she was disturbed by him. Then she denied that she had murdered him, but said there had been something the matter with one of the arteries of his throat, and she had been fixing it with a razor when she cut him. Again she said her husband had been shaving and had cut himself.

Before Magistrate Cornell Mrs. Ramsey said she had been married to her husband eight years, and again she said she had been married four years, but she admitted having been at the hotel with her husband only since February. After her arraignment she was asked if she had had a quarrel with her husband.

"Quarrel with my husband?" she asked in a low voice and in a quiet manner. "Why should I quarrel with my husband? Certainly not. Why, I like him. Certainly I like my husband."

When questioned about the deed she said: "I cut his throat because he snored so much. He disturbed me. I wanted to see the color of his blood. It was very peculiar, and the strangest kind I ever saw."

Magistrate Cornell held the woman for further examination to-day. In an ante-mortem statement to Coroner Bauch Ramsey said his wife had been despondent for two days—so much so that his attention had been attracted to her because of it. He believed she was mentally unbalanced when she cut him, and he said he did not hold her responsible.

Three of them were found some months ago in one of the gangways, but the bodies of the others, who were William Morgan, the loader boss, and William Derr, a lad, and another, are still somewhere in the mine. Yesterday the bones of eight men were removed. It is expected the remains of the three men will be found in a few days.
